

Number of Public School Elementary Students Eligible for Proposed Walkability Preference, SY2015-16 (2/13/17)

The following table shows the number of elementary students per public charter elementary school who would be eligible for the proposed walkability preference if all public charter elementary schools participated. These students were identified as eligible for the proposed preference because they lived further than .5 miles from their in-boundary DCPS elementary school and had a public charter school(s) within .5 miles of their home as of SY15-16. The source of the data is the SY2015-16 audited file and elementary school campus locations as of SY2015-16. Public charter schools co-located in the same facility are displayed as one row with both school names.

The unit of analysis for this table is a public charter elementary school. Public school students can be eligible for more than one public charter elementary school; therefore, the table below includes duplicated elementary students and is greater than the 10,650 eligible public elementary students shown in other DME analysis. Thus, this table represents the potential eligibility per public charter elementary school which is larger than the number of potential lottery matches if the preference was included because 1) the table includes duplicate names because a student may be eligible for more than one public elementary charter school, 2) the public charter school has to participate, 3) the student has to apply to and rank the walkable charter, and 4) the match depends on the order of this walkability preference in comparison to all other offered preferences.
